Kennings challenge

Anglo-Saxon poetry often used kennings. A kenning is a two-word phrase used instead of a noun.

For example, a famous kenning used in Beowulf to replace the noun 'sea' is 'whale-road'.

Other kennings include:

Sun   sky candle

Body   bone house

Ship   sea stead

Can you make kennings for these things you might see as an Anglo-Saxon at West Stow?

sheep

spear

fire

house

weaving

pigs

shield

brooch
